Tax deductions

Mortgage relief

Home mortgage interest payments are deductible against income subject to Salaries Tax. Owner-occupiers may claim a deduction for mortgage interest payments up to a maximum of HK$100,000 per year for 2006/07 for one property. The deduction can be claimed for ten tax years.

Caring for the elderly

A deductible expense (maximum of HK$60,000 each year) is available for expenses of a dependent parent/grandparent in residential care.

Contributions to retirement schemes

A deduction up to the maximum of HK$12,000 each year will be available for contributions made by employees to recognized retirement schemes and Mandatory Provident Fund schemes.

Self-education costs

A maximum deduction of HK$40,000 per year for training courses run by approved institutions is available.

Charitable Donations

To encourage private donations to educational and other charitable organisations, tax-exempted donations to approved charitable organizations will remain 25% of assessable income.

Property Tax

Property Tax is charged on the owner of any land or buildings situated in Hong Kong at the standard rate on the "net assessable value" of such land or buildings. Generally, the net assessable value means the amount of rent receivable by the owner of the subject land or buildings after deducting the rates which are paid by the owner less a statutory allowance (20%) for repairs and maintenance.

The standard property tax rate will remain at 16% for 2006/07.

Rates

Rates on properties remain at 5% of the ratable value throughout the territory.

Profits Tax

Any person who carrying on business in Hong Kong is liable to Profits Tax on profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong.

The profits tax rate for corporations will remain at 17.5% for 2006/07.

The profits tax rate for unincorporated businesses will remain at 16% for 2006/07.

The rate of deeming assessable profits from royalty type payments for the use in Hong Kong of intellectual property will remain at 30% of the payment. The effective tax rate on such payments will therefore remain at 5.25% for 2006/07.

Charitable Donations

Tax exempted donations will remain 25% of assessable profits.

Capital allowances

The depreciation allowance for plant and machinery remain unchanged at:-

Initial allowance : 60% of qualifying expenditure in the year expenditure is incurred.

Annual allowance : 10%, 20% or 30% on written down value depending on the category to which the asset belongs.

Industrial Building Allowances remain unchanged at:-

Initial allowance : 20% of qualifying expenditure.

Annual allowance : 4% of qualifying expenditure.

The Commercial Building Allowance on qualifying expenditure remains at 4% per annum.

A full deduction is available for certain expenditure on computer hardware and software.
